How We May Use And Disclose Your Health Information:

- For Treatment. We may use and disclose your health information to provide you with medical treatment or services and to coordinate your care. For example, a health care provider, such as a physician, nurse, or other person providing health services will access your health information to understand your medical condition and history. To assist in your treatment and care coordination, we may share information with other providers and with accountable care organizations (known as "ACOs") in which you participate, including notifying them that you have received care from us.
- For Payment. We may use and disclose your health information for purposes of receiving payment for treatment and services that you receive. For example, we may disclose your information to health plans or other payors to determine whether you are enrolled with the payor or eligible for health benefits or to submit claims for payment. The information on our bill may contain information that identifies you, your diagnosis, and treatment or supplies used in the course of treatment. We may provide health information to entities that help us submit bills and collect amounts owed, such as a collection agency.
- For Health Care Operations. We may use and disclose your health information for operational purposes. For example, your health information may be used by, and disclosed to, members of the medical staff, risk or quality improvement personnel, and others to evaluate the performance of our staff, to assess the quality of care and outcomes in your case and similar cases, to learn how to improve our facilities and services, for training, to arrange for legal or risk management services and to determine how to continually improve the quality and effectiveness of the health care we provide.

Unless you object, your religious affiliation and other directory information may be released to members of the clergy even if they do not ask for you by name.
- Others Involved In Your Care. We may disclose relevant health information to a family member, friend, or anyone else you designate in order for that person to be involved in your care or payment related to your care. We may also disclose health information to those assisting in disaster relief efforts so that others can be notified about your condition, status and location.
- Fundraising. We may use and disclose your health information to contact you about fundraising, consistent with legal requirements. You have the right to opt out of receiving these communications.

- Public Health. Your health information may be used or disclosed for public health activities such as assisting public health authorities or other legal authorities (e.g., state health department, Center for Disease Control, etc.) to prevent or control disease, injury, or disability, or for other public health activities.
